A word from our President, Mikuláš Dzurinda

2024 was another year of seismic shifts. The EU faced a barrage of challenges, reshaping the global landscape and demanding a fundamental reassessment of our collective future. This annual report by the Wilfried Martens Centre for European Studies provides insightful information on our key areas of focus from the past year, demonstrating our commitment to providing actionable solutions for the EU's present challenges.

To me, four defining moments have stood out over the past year. The first is Ukraine's steadfast fight; as the war rages on, its impact continues reverberating across the Eastern Partnership region and beyond. From the Middle East to Africa, the conflict exposes a dangerous alignment of authoritarian powers, demanding a unified and decisive response.

The second is the shifting political tide; the European Parliament elections signalled a surge in support for nationalist agendas. The rise of the so-called "far-right" challenges the foundations of European cooperation, prioritising national sovereignty over shared solutions and raising concerns about certain member states' alignment with Russia.

The third is "the wake-up call"; namely, the diagnosis formulated by Mario Draghi in his landmark report. It serves as a stark assessment of the EU's competitiveness, highlighting critical gaps in economic performance, technological advancement, and our ability to counter evolving threats. The message is clear: we must act decisively to close the gap with those who are outperforming us.

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to highlight the message sent to Europe by the United States: it is time for you to lead. The US elections have underscored the need for Europe to take greater responsibility for its own security and stability of its neighbourhood. This demands a strategic overhaul and a strengthening of our defence capabilities.

Amidst these complex circumstances, the Martens Centre maintained a strong record of achievement. We were proud to strengthen and expand our relationships with key EPP decision-makers in Brussels, contributing to policy discussions at a critical juncture for the EU. While celebrating these successes, we remain acutely aware of the growing influence of right-wing parties and will continue our efforts to counter this concerning trend.

2024 was a year of intense activity and dynamic engagement. Through impactful research, numerous collaborative projects with our valued member foundations and partners, and proactive communication initiatives, we have significantly amplified our influence at both the EU and national levels. The inaugural Global Synergy Conference fostered a truly global dialogue on sustainability, while our flagship European Ideas Forum provided a key platform for the first public appearances of newly appointed Vice President of the European Commission Henna Virkkunen and Commissioner Andrius Kubilius. Our strategic 7Ds publications have stimulated debate, inspired action, and generated considerable interest. It is particularly gratifying to note that the ideas and recommendations from the 7Ds Defence - Extended publication have directly informed the White Paper on Defence prepared by Commissioner Kubilius.

These accomplishments are a testament to the exceptional dedication and unwavering commitment of the entire Martens Centre team. I extend my deepest gratitude to our invaluable network of experts, researchers, member foundations, and partners, whose contributions and support have been essential to our success. Your insights and expertise have been instrumental in shaping our mission and driving our impact.

We invite you to engage with this Activity Report 2024, confident that it will provide valuable insights for your work and areas of interests. We wish you a productive and engaging reading.

MAR. RESEARCH PAPER
Did Secularisation Kill God? Changes in Religiosity and Values Among Natives and Migrants in Europe
 By Tommaso Virgili and Benedetta Panchetti
 Edited by Vít Novotný
 This study assesses secularisation trends in the EU, and specifically which groups tend to remain more religious than natives. It calls for policies that promote secularism and integration while balancing national differences and individual rights.

RESEARCH PAPER
Interparty Relations in the European Parliament 1952–2024: Between Cooperative and Adversarial Politics

By Luciano Bardi and Jacopo Cellini
 Edited by Federico Ottavio Reho

This publication explores the European Parliament's evolving party dynamics. Despite declining seats for major groups, cooperation between core groups persists. It also discusses agreement levels between political groups in the context of potential alliances.

POLICY BRIEF
The Northern Ireland Protocol and Why It Still Matters

By Michael O'Neill
 Edited by Eoin Drea

This paper examines how Brexit impacted the Irish border, highlighting the threat it posed to the fragile peace established by the 1998 Belfast Agreement. The border issue revealed the complexities of Brexit, challenging both the peace process and future UK-EU relations.

POLICY BRIEF
Reconnecting the British to Europe: Strategic Imperatives and Inconvenient Truths

By Dirk Hazell
 Edited by Eoin Drea

This brief advocates for UK-EU cooperation in key areas like environment, defence, and finance, alongside strengthening ties through youth mobility, civic engagement, and cultural exchanges to reinforce shared European values.

POLICY BRIEF
Building a Transatlantic Approach to Economic Security

By Andrew Yeh and Sam Goodman
 Edited by Dimitar Lilkov

This study highlights the economic security challenges posed by China and the divergent approaches taken by the EU and US. It recommends deeper transatlantic cooperation in areas like green tech investment, data security, and automotive protection.

Keeping the European Momentum: A Pan-European Study on EU Enlargement and Deepening

Edited by Peter Hefele

At the dawn of a new legislature and the constitution of a new College of Commissioners, the Martens Centre conducted a data-driven study across all EU-27 member states. To better understand EU citizens' attitudes and their views towards the enlargement and deepening of the European Union, the research project looked to answer questions such as: What are the conceptions of "Europe" across different socio-demographic groups and countries? How do citizens of the EU member states resonate with the perspective of a larger and deeper Union? What are the attitudes of different socio-political groups towards various models of integrating those candidate members in the EU? What has to be changed within the European treaties to make any further enlargement and deepening into a success story, and not a failure for the Union?

COLLABORATIVE PUBLICATION DEC. 2024

Financing Politics in Europe: a Political Party Roadmap for More Transparency and Effectiveness

Edited by Thibault Muzergues

This publication explores the many ways in which money and politics interact, and provides a roadmap for political parties to act for a more transparent and effective financing of European politics: from state subsidies to private fundraising, from regulation to oversight institutions, from protecting European politics from the influence of foreign authoritarian actors to funding European political parties, the authors provide an in-depth analysis of the tools that politicians have to better fund politics in Europe.

The 7Ds for Sustainability: Extended

Edited by Klaus Welle and Peter Hefele

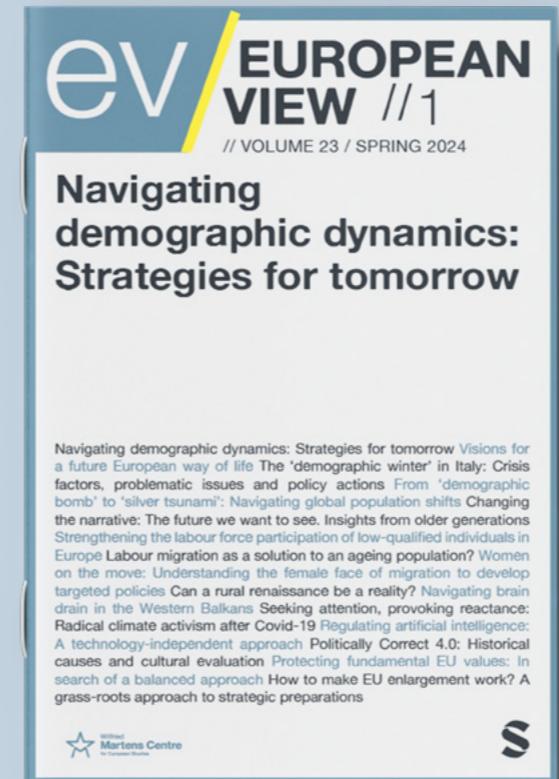

The 7Ds for Sustainability: Extended is the culmination of the 7Ds project. This comprehensive document was born out of the collaborative efforts of the Martens Centre research team, under the guidance of Klaus Welle, and a group of renowned external experts. The 7Ds for Sustainability: Extended aims to be more than just a set of principles: it seeks to act as a catalyst for change and action and provides a much-needed compass for Europe to navigate the challenges and seize the opportunities that lie ahead, by providing a nuanced and actionable framework across a range of policy areas.

European View

→ 2024

The European View is the policy journal of the Martens Centre. An intellectual platform for politicians, opinion makers and academics, it tackles contemporary themes of European politics, focusing on one specific theme in each issue.

The journal contributes to the debate in the most important fields of European and international politics. What makes it unique is its hybrid nature: its capacity to involve esteemed academics and experts, on the one hand, and high-level politicians and decision-makers, on the other.

VOL. 23 - ISSUE 1 SPRING, MAY 2024

Navigating demographic dynamics: Strategies for tomorrow

Edited by Sara Pini

The EU faces demographic challenges due to declining birth rates, ageing populations, and labour shortages, straining social programs and economic growth. While migration offers some relief, factors like career priorities and high living costs contribute to lower birth rates. The Martens Centre's 7Ds for Sustainability seeks solutions for a stable, integrated Europe. Acting as a companion piece to the 7Ds project, this issue of the European View explores these shifts, analysing migration and economic sustainability, while emphasising solutions for long-term stability.

VOL. 23 - ISSUE 2 AUTUMN, NOV. 2024

Overcoming the geography of discontent: New perspectives and innovative solutions

Edited by Sara Pini

The EU strives for unity but faces persistent regional disparities, fuelling economic inequality, social tensions, and political polarisation. Rural communities often feel overlooked, driving discontent and extremism, while cities struggle with overcrowding and housing shortages. To bridge this divide, the EU must invest in infrastructure, tailor rural policies, rethink alienating regulations, and support flexible work. This issue of the European View explores these challenges and proposes solutions for a more inclusive and equitable future.

APR. 11/04 IN-PERSON EVENT
From Margins to Mainstream: The Far Right's Threat in European Politics

This event was organised during the IX Delphi Economic Forum. The esteemed speakers tried to highlight the imminent dangers that liberal democracies face from the rise of populist, anachronistic and demagogic leaderships around the world.

01/10 IN-PERSON EVENT
Europe's Nuclear Dilemma: Evaluating the Need for a Common European Nuclear Deterrent

At a critical time for European security, we organised this discussion to better understand the continent's evolving security landscape and the role of nuclear deterrence amid rising threats. The panel assessed the feasibility of a collective European nuclear deterrent, and provided recommendations for balancing NATO commitments and non-proliferation goals.

02/10 HYBRID EVENT
European Green Deal 2.0: A Better Bargain for Climate and Competitiveness

In order to assess the European Green Deal's progress and its challenges amid economic and geopolitical shifts, we convened this panel of experts to discuss the policy adjustments needed to balance decarbonisation, energy security, and competitiveness while ensuring financial and social sustainability.

MAY 15/05 IN-PERSON EVENT
From Boom to Bust: How can Germany Restart its Economic Engine?

We organised a discussion on the challenges facing the German economy, including low growth, a cooling property market, and costly transitions in energy, geopolitics, and demographics. Our expert panel provided suggestions for reform priorities and provided scenarios around the political impact of economic slowdown.

06/11 HYBRID EVENT
What Kind of Migration for Europe? The Big Picture for the EU and its Member States

This event explored migration trends in the EU, challenging common perceptions by examining data drawn from our publication on legal migration, family reunification, and labour market integration. The conversation also considered how migration can address workforce gaps and its broader social impact.

07/11 HYBRID EVENT
Georgia and Moldova at the Ballot Box: What Impact on EU Integration and Enlargement Process?

Following the crucial elections in Moldova and Georgia, we held this discussion in order to discuss the elections' impact on the political climate and future prospects for both countries, especially the implications for EU enlargement, while examining challenges like Russian interference and democratic setbacks.

14/11 HYBRID EVENT
Confronting Europe's Labour Shortage: A Strategic Blueprint for Thriving in the Future Global Talent Competition

This event tackled Europe's labour shortage, driven by an ageing population and shrinking workforce, especially in rural areas. Marking the launch of our paper "Confronting Europe's Labour Shortage," it offered strategies to attract global talent and provided key recommendations to ensure Europe's long-term growth and competitiveness.

JUN. 26/06 IN-PERSON EVENT
Did Secularisation Kill God? Changes in Religiosity and Values among Natives and Migrants in Europe

As the launch event of our publication of the same name, this conversation centred on the shifting role of religion in Europe, where secularisation is advancing but religious values still shape culture and politics. Discussants looked at differing secularisation trends across faiths and their impact on centre-right politics.

10/12 HYBRID EVENT
Exploring Parliamentary Alliances: EPP and the Dynamics of Coalition-Building in the EP

To launch our publication analysing shifting dynamics in the European Parliament ahead of its tenth legislative term, we convened a panel of experts to explore evolving cooperation between key political groups, focusing on the EPP and the future of coalition-building. The discussion highlighted the EP's unique role in shaping political strategies and its resilience despite challenges.

Global Synergy Conference

→ 14 FEB. 2024

Unifying Visions, Unlocking Sustainable Realities: The Role of Europe, Asia and Latin America in Global Economic Transition

2024 saw the inaugural edition of the Global Synergy Conference, held on 14th February. This event was the first of its kind hosted by the Martens Centre, and brought together a global line-up of panellists from Latin America to South-East Asia. The event sought to provide insight on the issues driving the day across the globe and offer perspectives on how the EU should approach these.

OPENING REMARKS

Mikuláš Dzurinda,
President, Martens Centre

PANEL 01

Euro-Asian Trade - Unlocking the Power of Sustainable Markets

In the realm of EU-Asia trade relations, a pertinent question arises – is the current framework fostering the transformation into a sustainable economy effectively in both Europe and Asia? This question is of great significance, as sustainable economic growth has become a paramount objective in today's global context. This panel considered how private companies can best contribute to this objective and enhance collaboration, as well as in which fields Europe has a comparative advantage and is attractive for Asian nations, among other relevant issues.

Speakers Anna-Michelle Asimakopoulou, Member of European Parliament, Vice-Chair INTA Committee, Greece

Shreekant Gupta, Professor, Department of Economics, University of Delhi, India

Renu Kohli, Senior Fellow, Centre for Social and Economic Progress, India

Andreas Moerke, Professor of Business Administration, Intercultural Management and Business Ethics, Hochschule Worms, Germany

Moderator Peter Hefele, Policy Director, Martens Centre

PANEL 02

Navigating a New Era for Great Power Politics

By working together, Europe and Asia possess the potential to create a powerful force in advocating for a stable international order. Strengthening diplomatic ties and fostering strategic partnerships between nations is key to global stability. Emphasising dialogue, cooperation, and adherence to international rules and norms will further bolster this collective effort. This panel examined how Europe and Asia can jointly contribute to a stable, multilateral, rule-based international order, which counters the rise of totalitarian regimes.

Speakers Christina Chen, Research Fellow, Institute for National Defence and Security Research, Taiwan

Theresa Fallon, Founder and Director, Centre for Russia Europe Asia Studies, Belgium

Shairee Malhotra, Associate Fellow, Observer Research Foundation, India

Andreas Schwab, Member of European Parliament, Germany

Moderator Tomi Huhtanen, Executive Director, Martens Centre

PANEL 03

Innovation and Technology as a Driver of EU-Asia Relations

Innovation and technology play a pivotal role in fostering sustainable development. In particular, they can drive progress in critical areas including renewable energy, smart cities, circular economy, and sustainable agriculture, contributing to a greener and more resilient future. By harnessing innovation and technology, both Europe and Asia can accelerate the adoption of renewable energy sources, optimise energy efficiency, and reduce carbon emissions. The discussion centred on how collaborative platforms, strong legal frameworks, and the leveraging of promising business models could pave the way for a mutually beneficial and impactful partnership.

Speakers Zsuzsa Anna Ferenczy, Assistant Professor, National Dong Hwa University in Hualien, Taiwan

Konstantinos Kyranakis, Deputy Minister of Digital Governance of Greece

King Wang Poon, Director of the Lee Kuan Yew Centre for Innovative Cities, Singapore University of Technology and Design, Singapore

Ivan Štefanec, Member of European Parliament, Slovakia

Moderator Sandra Pasarić, Project Officer, Martens Centre

PANEL 04

EU-Latin America - Partnering up with MERCOSUR

The MERCOSUR deal holds vast potential in fostering trade, investment, and economic cooperation. The business community will play a crucial role in facilitating the sustainable transition in EU-Latin America trade relations. Harmonising regulations and improving market access has the potential to significantly boost bilateral trade, offering new avenues for economic growth and collaboration, while promoting sustainability and upholding social responsibility. This final panel discussed the crucial aspect of embracing sustainable practices, addressing regulatory challenges, and acknowledging geopolitical implications in cultivating a thriving and mutually beneficial partnership between EU and MERCOSUR countries.

Speakers Nicolas Albertoni, Deputy Foreign Minister of Uruguay

Eleonora Catella, Deputy Director of International Relations, BusinessEurope, Italy

Antonio López-Istúriz White, Member of European Parliament, Spain, Secretary General of the Centrist Democrat International (IDC-CDI), Secretary Treasurer, Martens Centre

Sandra Rios, Director, Centre for Studies in Integration and Development, Brazil

Moderator Luis Blanco, General Coordinator, Centrist Democrat International (IDC-CDI)

CLOSING REMARKS

Tomi Huhtanen, Executive Director, Martens Centre

NET@WORK EPP Congress Edition

→ 06-07 MAR. 2024

Net@Work 2024's title, "Eyes Ahead: Forging the EU's Path", reflects the ambitions of the different policy debates we organised: bringing together Europe's leading centre-right think tanks to discuss the pressing issues shaping the continent's future. Organised as part of our EPP Congress Sideline Programme, Net@Work 2024 provided a vital platform to address challenges ranging from geopolitical strategy and energy security to technological innovation and demographic shifts. Throughout both days of debates, Net@Work 2024 sought to bridge national perspectives with EU-level decision-making.

Event Aims

- To promote and increase the cooperation within our organisation's network of political foundations and think-tanks;

CONCLUDING REMARKS

European Ideas Forum Brussels

For the 16th edition of the European Ideas Forum, we provided the same stimulating in-person experience for attendees while maintaining the high-quality, TV studio-style broadcast that has become a hallmark of our flagship event. As in previous editions, the discussions and panels united policymakers, scholars, past and present political leaders, and industry experts to examine the pressing issues and challenges facing the European Union. This year, Martens Centre President Mikuláš Dzurinda opened the forum, before giving the floor to EPP President Manfred Weber who delivered a video message.

As always, EIF featured timely panels with high-level speakers on topics as diverse as demography, geopolitics, and the global tech race. This year, we were proud to present exclusive discussions and interviews with European Commissioners Henna Virkkunen and Andrius Kubilius, and European Parliament President Roberta Metsola.

We also organised a media partnership panel and interview with FT Live and Euronews, considerably broadening our reach and exposing a wider audience to our European Ideas Forum. Over the two days of discussion, EIF was proud to feature partner interviews with private sector actors: Audrey Scozzaro Ferrazini, Marco Pancini, Claudia Selli, Sarah Herrlinger, and Agnieszka Krukowska Van Handenhove all brought their invaluable perspectives to our policy conversations.

At the end of yet another successful edition of the European Ideas Forum, Antonio López-Istúriz White, EPP Group MEP and Martens Centre Secretary-Treasurer, provided the closing remarks.

Opening Remarks

Mikuláš Dzurinda,
President, Martens Centre

Manfred Weber,
EPP President and
EPP Group Chairman

Day 1 featured a panel on Europe's demography, immigration, and changing societies, a crucial discussion at a time when demographic shifts and migration challenges are reshaping the continent. Speakers, including policymakers and experts, debated how Europe can address these changes while maintaining social cohesion. This was followed by an exclusive one-on-one conversation between European Parliament President Roberta Metsola and the Martens Centre's Margherita Movarelli, where they examined Europe's future in an evolving global landscape. We then heard from a series of private actors on topics ranging from competitiveness, to AI, to the digital transition. Later, a panel on Europe's geopolitical role brought together high-profile experts to discuss how the EU can navigate increasing global uncertainties and strengthen its strategic position in world affairs. We ended the day with a media partnership interview with Euronews, featuring Martens Centre Academic Council Chairman Klaus Welle.

Competitive Solutions for a Digital Future

Speaker Claudia Selli,
Vice President Int. External and Regulatory Affairs, AT&T

Moderator Peter Hefele,
Policy Director, Martens Centre

Day 2 began with a policy discussion on securing Europe's place in the global innovation and tech race, with panellists examining how the EU can maintain competitiveness amid rapid technological advancements. This tied nicely into the following private actor interviews, which discussed technology and accessibility and life sciences and competitiveness. A media partnership panel organised with FT Live then explored the role of trade in relations between democracies, addressing the economic and political shifts shaping global commerce. The day continued with an exclusive discussion on European defence policy, drawing on the insights of EU Commissioner for Defence and Space Andrius Kubilius in his first public appearance after taking office. We capped off Day 2 with an exclusive interview on technology and sovereignty with European Commission Executive Vice President Henna Virkkunen, also joining us in her first public appearance in her new post.

Outreach

Crucial to our efforts of developing centre-right thought in Europe is our coordinated outreach strategy. We make use of traditional and emerging media and produce a variety of audiovisual and written content in order to increase the visibility of our activites and our researchers, promote our content to a wider audience, and continue to be part of the discussion on the European Union in Brussels and beyond.

All of our outreach content can be found at:
www.martenscentre.eu/news/

Our Formats

PODCASTS

The European View Podcast NEW

The newest addition to our roster of podcasts, the European View Podcast is a sister product to our biannual policy journal. Hosted by Sara Pini, Senior Research Officer and European View Deputy Editor-in-Chief at the Martens Centre, podcast episodes explore in a bit more depth individual articles from the journal's latest issue, in order to provide better context and more complete information to our readers, who are also listeners!

Her and EU

Starring Loredana Teodorescu, Martens Centre Academic Council Member, Her and EU discusses gender equality in the EU. This year, one of our guests was Sofia Zacharaki, Minister of Social Care and Family of Greece.

Brussels Bytes

Hosted by Dimitar Lilkov, Martens Centre Senior Research Officer, this podcast series tackles novel issues of digital policy, online privacy, and FinTech, featuring a balance of academics, policymakers and private sector actors, reflecting the multi-layered nature of digital policy.

All of our audiovisual content is available online
Scan the QR code to start enjoying it now!

VIDEOS

Bridge the Channel

Starring Angelos Chrysogelos, Martens Centre Research Associate, Bridge the Channel keeps our viewers informed about EU-UK relations, the latest political developments in the Anglosphere, and their impact on political decisions made in the EU.

Video Op-eds

Realising that many people consume information on the go nowadays, we devised a way to bring our insights to a larger audience in today's fast-paced world: Video Op-eds! These combine the bite-size, incisive nature of the op-ed with the convenience of the podcast!

7Debates

The 7Debates are a partner product to the larger 7Ds Research Project. These video panels enable us to present the importance of each of the 7 policy areas explored by the research. This year, among others, we hosted a discussion on De-risking Globalisation with Herman Van Rompuy, former President of the European Council.

Thinking Talks

Our principal video interview format aimed at discussing a variety of issues with important guests across the EU sphere and beyond. This year, we held conversations with guests such as Giovanni Orsina, Željana Zovko MEP, and Tim Bale.

EDITORIAL

Vital Questions

Our short written interview format, where we bring together key actors of certain spheres, such as members of our Honorary Board or experts in a policy field, to answer specific questions and offer their unique insights on the matters at hand.

Martens Centre WhatsApp Channel

In 2024, we launched a dedicated WhatsApp channel to give our audience direct access to our most relevant work; it's the best place to make sure you don't miss any of our events, publications, and blogs! You can join by scanning the QR code below.

Migration Update

The Migration Update is a monthly compilation of relevant news stories created by the Martens Centre's migration expert, Vít Novotný. It is sent to our subscribers and relevant contacts in this policy field, and exists to provide a factual base for migration debates within the European centre-right.

In the Media

→ 2024

Martens Centre experts have been regularly invited to contribute to various media outlets reporting on topics relating to our work. Our researchers have also been extensively quoted by media discussing their areas of expertise. This demonstrates the Centre's relevance in public discussion at the very highest level, and is a testament to our strong presence in the European, and increasingly global, media landscape.

As part of our commitment to help inform the public debate as much as possible, we also developed media partnerships to expand our reach and bring together new members of our audience with our established contacts. This allows us to promote our wide offer of products, from policy papers to podcasts, to the relevant audiences across the EU.

A selection of our media output in 2024:

Our experts were invited to participate in Euronews' Election Night live coverage during the 2024 European elections, sharing their insights on the results and their implications.

Eoin Drea quipped about the relative struggle for millennials to succeed in political leadership roles for The Hill.

Our Executive Director was a guest of Euronews' "Brussels, my love?" to speak about European readiness for Trump 2.0 back in April.

European Ideas Forum Media Impact

This year at the European Ideas Forum, we organised two media partnerships. We sought to join forces with major media actors in order to increase the reach of our flagship event and broaden our audience.

The first partnership was a special edition of Euronews' The Europe Conversation, which achieved 521K impressions on LinkedIn and through digital advertising, and reached a total of 18 million viewers on television across Europe!

The second was a panel organised in partnership with FT Live, which was streamed on social media and achieved over 270K impressions on LinkedIn and upwards of 1 million impressions on X!

These were some of the media outlets which featured Martens Centre experts in 2024. We also continued to expand our presence in non-English media, broadening our reach beyond our usual audience.

About us

The Wilfried Martens Centre for European Studies (formerly the Centre for European Studies) was established in 2007 as the political foundation and official think tank of the EPP.

It embodies a pan-European mindset based on centre-right, Christian Democrat, conservative and like-minded political values and research. It serves as a framework for national political foundations linked to member parties of the EPP.

The Martens Centre helps prepare EPP programmes and policy documents. It organises seminars and training on EU policies and on the process of European integration. The Centre also contributes to formulating EU and national public policies. It produces research papers and books, policy briefs and the twice-yearly European View journal. Its research activities are divided into six clusters: party structures and EU institutions, economic and social policies, EU foreign policy, environment and energy, values and religion, and new societal challenges. Through its papers, publication launches, conferences and online activities, the Martens Centre offers a platform for discussion among experts, politicians, policymakers and the European public.

At the beginning of 2014, the Centre was renamed in honour of its late president and founder, Wilfried Martens, the EPP's long-standing president and a former prime minister of Belgium.
